

Newly Available On-Demand Seminars

Civil Litigation

Litigation Management Techniques

Litigating any case can be complex. Regardless of the type of dispute or the parties involved, there are some general methods to guide you through the process. Our experienced litigators share their techniques from a range of practice areas. Conduct an initial strategy meeting with your client and provide regular updates. Get the ball rolling toward settlement with an effective demand letter.

Level: Basic

Moderator

John B. Swift II
Institute of Continuing
Legal Education, Ann Arbor

Contributor

Kathryn M. Cushman
Breitmeyer Cushman
PLLC, Detroit

Contributor

Heather Joy Atnip
Atnip & Associates
PLLC, Rochester

Contributor

John J. Gillooly
Garan Lucow Miller
PC, Detroit

Contributor

Andrew M. Bossory
Lorandos & Associates,
Ann Arbor

Contributor

Tad T. Roumayah
Sommers Schwartz PC,
Southfield

Elder Law

Working with Guardians ad Litem on Elder Law Matters

Whether you actively practice in elder law or probate, you will often work with guardians ad litem (GALs). Direct the progression of your case by anticipating when the GAL will be appointed (or needs to be appointed). Give the GAL helpful information to ensure their visit with the elderly individual runs smoothly. Analyze the GAL report and ask the right questions to advocate for your client. Advise your client about the GAL fees.

Level: Intermediate

Moderator

Jennifer Ackroyd-Fabris
Morgan Starr Stackin PLLC,
Lapeer

Contributor

Gregory J. Roth
Gregory J Roth PC,
Novi

Contributor

Sara B. Rubino
Jaffe Raitt Heuer &
Weiss PC, Southfield

Family Law

View from the Family Court Bench

Cosponsored by the Family Law Section of the State Bar of Michigan

Good working relationships with judges and their staff is critical to getting a good result for your client. Our moderator, an experienced family law practitioner, talks to two seasoned family court judges about how to address common domestic relations issues when appearing in front of them.

Level: Intermediate

Moderator

Renee K. Gucciardo
The Gucciardo Law Firm
PLLC, Bingham Farms

Contributor

Hon. Paul J. Denenfeld
17th Circuit Court,
Grand Rapids

Contributor

Hon. Joan E. Young
6th Circuit Court, Pontiac